INFORMATION RELEASE:

TEAM UKRAINE!

Now, this is what we call teamwork! Two different aid organisations joined forces to deliver Bournemouth FC football kits to schoolboy players in Ukraine.

The kits were sourced by Ferndown councillor Simon Cable, who is a longtime supporter of Bournemouth and who collects donations under the Cherry Aid banner.

New Forest For Ukraine (NFFU) agreed to transport the four pallets of Cherry Aid, which went to schoolboy players in Ukraine.

And this particular school in Sokal needed something to smile about.

“The school had just posted photos of six former pupils who had died fighting for Ukraine,” explains NFFU volunteer Graham Allen, “and they were making space for four more.”

When your young life is being blown apart, every little act of kindness means so much. These lads were thrilled to wear the Cherries colours in training. What a result!
